

SEE BEAUTY OF WHITE CHRISTMAS IN SPIKE OF TROUBLES, TRAFFIC TIE-UPS

Newmarket and district residents have been digging out of heavy snowfalls the past few weeks. Although heavy snows have caused endless troubles to commuters, car drivers and snow removal crews, they have provided many breath taking scenes both in town and in the countryside. A week ago a heavy fall made every branch and twig and hydro wire a Christmas decoration and while drivers of trucks, buses and cars were suffering shot nerves in traffic tie-ups, happier souls were taking in the natural beauty of their surroundings, sparkling in the morning sunlight. This picture was taken at the residence of Maj. T. M. Ewing, south of the Pickering College campus.

Student, Teacher Interest In Forestry Wins King School Provincial Award

Winning the Provincial School Forestry Competition, Sacred Heart Separate School has brought distinction to King Township and York County. Sponsored by the Ontario Horticultural Association, the award gives the school a cash prize of $50, placing it first over four other districts.

The Ontario championship won by grade 8, under the guidance of Sister Mary Fleurette, teaching there after teaching at St. John's school in Newmarket for several years, is small in comparison to the wealth of knowledge gained in the care and value of Ontario forestation and the love of trees for themselves. The school woodlot is the special pride of every pupil and won the admiration of the department of forestry.

Sacred Heart school won district three competition of $25 in October, when eight King Township schools and one in Vaughan competed.

The half-acre woodlot at S.S. 6 was commenced last spring. In September, when Sister Mary Fleurette came from Newmarket to teach at Sacred Heart, she found the reforested school plot overgrown with weeds during the holidays, and many of the trees were dead. The students set to work to clean up.

The woodlot was replenished with new trees from the forestry department. The children repaired and whitewashed the fence. To identify the spot, Ken Best and Joe Dean scrubbed an old plank board and gave it several coats of paint; on it was painted a school sign. The whole plan pleased the department's forestry examiner. Like other schools in the competition, the children collected and named a chart of leaves. They made a research hike with Mr. Lloyd Eckell of the Maple Forestry Branch, who found that about 100 trees were alive and thriving in the woodlot.

Then came the academic part of the work. The sister set stiff written examinations in forestry, carefully examining and grading the papers. From these results, she and the class selected five pupils to represent grade eight on the oral quiz presented by the department. For an hour and a half, Dorothy O'Reilly, Rita McCrehan, Dorothy Adamson, Ken Best and Mike McGeehan took the test which gave the school the $25 district prize. They then moved into provincial finals to take the championship prize.

The remaining winners were: district 5, Cambden East school, Lennox and Addington, $25; district 2, Maple Grove school, Waterloo County, $15; district 4, S.S. 13, Percy, Northumberland; district 1, S.S. 7, South Walsingham, Norfolk Co., the last with honorable mention.

BUS IN SNOW BANK

When a south Gray Coach bus slid off ice-coated Yonge St. into a snow bank south of Bond Lake, holding up 15 or more cars in a traffic tie-up on Christmas night, Doc Marshall, Oak Ridges, with his tow truck, hauled the big bus loaded with passengers back on the highway. It was a good job for a small tow truck. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall kept their service station, garage and bus depot open until 2 a.m. Tuesday morning to accommodate drivers and bus passengers who were held up by the snow storm.

PUBLISH FRIDAY

Next week's issue of the Era and Express will also be published on Friday because of the New Year's holiday on Tuesday. Normal Thursday publication will resume the following week.

FIRE WEDNESDAY

Newmarket firemen were called to Bell's Corner on Wednesday afternoon, corner of Davis Dr. and Yonge St. Believed to have been started by electrical wiring in the attic of the restaurant, the fire was quickly put under control. Bell's Corner is a roadside restaurant operated by Frank Carr. The little damage was caused mostly by smoke.

TRUCK WRECKED IN CHRISTMAS CRASH

Colliding with the rear of a standing truck at Oak Ridges on Christmas night, Mrs. Sadie Smith, Elgin Mills, the driver, wrecked her panel truck and suffered a cut knee. Her passenger suffered a cut above the eye which required stitches at the office of Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora. Mrs. Smith said she did not see the parked truck.

It was her first accident in 21 years but the vehicle was well covered by insurance. Mrs. Smith has a stall at the Toronto market and at the time of the accident was on her way home from Aurora. She and her passenger were required to wait an hour for taxi service because of heavy traffic.

HEIFER CHASES RABBIT IN SNOW

We had this story from a King township farmer who swears it is true: He was going by a field in which he had some heifers when he noticed one of them begin to plunge through the snow towards the far fence. When she reached the fence, she stopped, and then began running back through the snow towards the farmer.

The snow was some inches deep and hardly the footing to encourage a heifer to run, but there she was, running at top speed. The farmer was still scratching his head and wondering when he saw a rabbit hopping along in front of the heifer.

"It's the first time I've ever known a heifer to chase a rabbit," he says. And in an afterthought, "she was well fed too."

At The Gateway

In a few more days, the year will have spun itself into history and with it the pride of happy accomplishment, the frustration of failure. But whatever it be, it will become a memory as the clocks strike midnight and a new year is born. We can't recall what has passed, but we can take heart from our experiences and strike out anew.

It has not been a happy year. The threat of an all-out atomic war has hung like a pall just beyond the horizon. The tension of anxiety has become commonplace; there is a tendency to ignore the threat, to pretend it doesn't exist, as if such pretenses were themselves an escape.

It has been a year which also saw the awakening of an effort, the coalescing of the realization that our way of life can only be maintained by our own effort, no matter how demanding that effort may be. It is paradoxical that besides this awakening effort, there should be a counter-desire to turn our backs upon its cause.

It has been a year when Canadians have watched with growing apprehension the revelations of political and social immorality within its neighbor's borders, and wondered if there was such a cancer to be exposed at home. A commission was set up in Ontario to examine the patient for signs of the disease. So far, the reports have not been too serious. But we wonder. We wonder because the giant to the south of us has left its impression upon us in so many other ways.

Whatever our hopes or our fears, the sum of what we do is the sum of ourselves. No one can do much for us unless we are willing that it be done, unless we lend ourselves to the doing. Fundamentally, the course of the new year will be set at our direction. If enough of us choose to blind ourselves to the threat to our future, our country will be blinded; if enough of us strive for the fulfillment of our destiny, it will be fulfilled. There is no such thing as the neutrality of indifference. Even that can determine our course.

Let us make of our world what we can. It is our individual resolution, and that only which can accomplish it.

Lions Fund $900 48 Baskets Given

Members of the Newmarket Lions club delivered 48 Christmas baskets on Christmas Eve. The baskets were made possible by the contributions of Newmarket citizens and organizations, and all have been, or will be, acknowledged in these columns.

Of the baskets, some 20 went to out-of-town families; the remainder were distributed in town. The baskets went to families whose children totalled 125. The baskets contained food and clothes and toys.

The club's Christmas basket campaign has been an annual event for some years. This year, the total of contributions has reached $900 with those contributions listed below.

The names of those receiving the baskets were taken from the files the club has compiled during its service work, supplemented by names recommended by various social agencies in the district and individual members. The lists are checked with other groups to avoid duplication, and purchasing is done in terms of each family's requirements.

During the weeks before Christmas, a committee sorted and packed the baskets and on Christmas Eve members of the club delivered the baskets. Contributions to the fund are

Milk Price Up 2 Cents Effective First Of '52

The price of milk in Newmarket will increase two cents a quart, effective Jan. 1. The increase follows the award of a higher price to producers by the milk control board. The award was announced earlier this month and the price increase to the consumers would have been effective on Dec. 15, but the Newmarket dairies decided to wait until the first of the New Year, although paying the producers the new price and absorbing the difference themselves.

Earlier, a hearing of the milk control board to determine the milk payments to the producers and the charge to the consumers was advertised in the Era and Express. At a special meeting shortly after, the Newmarket town council forwarded a resolution of protest against a higher price to the board.

The award of the increase to the consumers is in line with increases announced earlier this month. It means that the producers receive 4.60 a hundredweight for their milk, an increase of 5 1/2 cents over the old price.

The producers' claim has been that increased cost of production, including feed, help, implements, etc., have justified the new price. In Toronto, the milk control board established a differential between the costs of store-bought milk and home delivery but no such differential was set for Newmarket or any of the other Ontario markets.

In announcing the increase, the dairies said that there would be no deliveries on either Wednesday or Sunday after the New Year until further notice and asked householders to order in advance for these days.

The new prices are: milk, quarts, 21 cents; pints, 12 cents; small, 6 cents; buttermilk, quarts, 17 cents; pints, 9 cents; chocolate milk, quarts, 23 cents; pints, 13 cents; small, 7 cents; skim milk, quarts, 15 cents; table cream, quarts, 85 cents; small, 22 cents; whipping cream, quarts, $1.25; small, 32 cents.

The dairies announced that all the tickets purchased at the old price will require two cents per quart and one cent per pint additional.

Riding in the southbound auto, Darius Sedore, 55, of Cedar Brae, and his wife Myrtle, 52, were treated at York County hospital in Newmarket for cuts to the face and arms and shock.

On the same road a half-mile south of Sharon two autos collided in a similar accident caused by ice. Four persons went to York County hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises.

It was reported to police that the auto of S. E. Fairbairn of Ravenshoe struck a northbound auto driven by Joseph Deavitt of Beaumont Ave., Toronto. Three passengers in the Deavitt auto, Jean Deavitt, Nancy Hayes and George Hayes of Willowdale and the driver were cut.

Theft of a $159 adding machine and a small radio was discovered one morning last week when the office of James J. Wall, Yonge St., was opened for work. The window to the rear of the building was smashed in and the office door forced open. The safe lock was broken and part of the door jam splintered off. Church Party for Sunday School

Nancy Passmore took the part of Mary; Robert Simper as Joseph, and Betty Beynon the angel. This feature formed the main part of the program, followed by Christmas gifts.

On Sunday morning, St. John's church was beautifully decorated for the Christmas service with ropes of evergreen boughs effectively arranged. A huge bouquet of crimson gladioli, the gift of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, filled the baptismal font. The music conducted by Mrs. Helen Crawford and the message delivered by the rector, Rev. D. C. H. Michell, were inspirational.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the twenty-ninth instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

Sharon Company
The inhabitants of Sharon were becoming quite a military people; even the ladies of that place were alive to the beauties of the scarlet tunic, and saw sufficient attraction in the line of red coats to interest themselves in the musical equipment of the Volunteer Company of their village. On Wednesday, June 17, 1868 the Sharon company of volunteers were presented by the ladies of the village with a drum and two fifes.

The men were mustered in the drill shed ready to march to Newmarket, the headquarters of their battalion, to meet with other companies for battalion drill, when the presentation was made. Miss Mary Willson made the presentation and Miss Martha Stokes read the address. Captain John Selby of the company made the reply after which came the usual amount of cheering for the Queen, the ladies and the captain. The men then started with light hearts for their destination.

The Address
"The very pleasing task has been allotted to us of presenting to you and the officers and men of No. 8 company of the 12th Battalion of York Infantry on behalf of the ladies of Sharon, the three instruments of military music before us—two fifes and a drum. May the tap of that drum and the shrill notes of the fifes inspire you while on the dreary march to guard your country's honor.

"We present to you instruments to you in full confidence that there is not a coward in your ranks to disgrace the livery of our beloved Queen; and in your untarnished loyalty and determination to defend this, our noble country, from desecration by the hands of the invader, come he from whence he may.

"In doing so you defend the freest country on earth; you defend your homes and our homes, those cherished spots where our aged sires, the families of many of you and friends of all of us, live and worship under the guidance of truth. Should your present march be but the prelude of actual conflict with that unworthy foe, that band of assassins who for two years since invaded our soil, you will have our most earnest prayers for your safe return, and we here invoke the God of Battles to lend you a strong arm and nerve you for this contest in behalf of right.

"And now in such a contest and in the names of your mothers,

In 1885 the old cry arose which had caused the troubles of 1870. The French half-breeds disliked the plan of the lots as laid out by the dominion surveyors. They had laid them out in square blocks instead of the old French method of long and narrow farms fronting on the river. Reil, who had been living quietly across the border, was invited to return and be their champion. He proceeded to draw another Bill of Rights which was sent to Ottawa. There was no response to this. In March, 1885, the country was electrified by the news that actual violence had broken out at Duck Lake. The response was magnificent, and in a very few days 3,500 men were on the way to the North West.

Composite Force
Major James Weyling and Sergeant Kavanagh of Sharon left at once. A composite battalion was formed of four companies from the York Rangers and four companies from the 35th Battalion, Simcoe Foresters. This meant that several senior officers who wished to take part had to revert to rank. James Weyling was a major in his own battalion, but reverted to rank of captain and commanded a company composed of men from Sharon and Newmarket. For service in this campaign he was awarded the medal and bar.

In May, word was received from Major Weyling that the men of the 12th York Rangers had arrived at Qu'Appelle. Then letters began arriving from the Sharon men who had enlisted—that of Corporal Terry is the only name found at this time. Sergt. Hillary of Aurora inspected the men of Sharon and Newmarket companies.

In this day of rapid and easy transportation, it is difficult to realize that the troops from the eastern section had a dreary time in crossing the gaps which still existed in the Canadian Pacific Railway to the east of Port Arthur, and as the United States government would not permit an armed force to pass over American territory by train, much hardship and suffering had to be endured. Around the north shore of Lake Superior the cold was intense—deep snow, marching, riding on open flat cars, little or no sleep and the thermometer standing at 50 below—then again the march across the frozen prairie against the never-ceasing wind. Details of hardships might be continued. It was a remarkable campaign and by the courage of these men from the provinces the lives of many helpless white settlers were saved.

Weyling Family
The Weyling family has for long been a part of Sharon. Colonel James Weyling was born in the city of Toronto in the year 1843. At an early age he left the city and came to near Sharon to learn farming with his uncle, Thomas Weyling. Later he purchased a farm and a few years after that he bought another just below the village. He held the view that all men should know how to defend their country in time of need, and joined the 12th Battalion York Rangers, a county battalion. During the Fenian Raid in 1866, his company was mobilized, but owing to the abrupt ending of the raid the company did not leave headquarters.

In 1886 he was given command of the 12th York Rangers, which he held until 1892, when he was placed on the list of reserve officers with rank of lieutenant-colonel. For his long service he was awarded the Victoria decoration, and made honorary colonel of the battalion, which he held during his lifetime.

Lieut. Colonel Weyling took a great interest in Masonic affairs and was made district deputy grand master of his Masonic district. Also he was chosen by the Liberal-Conservatives of North York to contest the election as a member of the provincial parliament, but was defeated by the Hon. E. J. Davis, the Liberal nominee.

Lieutenant-Colonel James Weyling married in 1868 Elizabeth Doan, a daughter of Jesse Doan of Sharon. His death took place on his farm, July 12, 1922.

The military tradition of the Weyling family was carried on by Lieut.-Col. James Weyling, Jr., who was born in the vicinity of Sharon in 1886. In 1886 he was given a commission as lieutenant in the 12th Battalion, York Rangers, and served with the battalion until 1901, when from 1899 he had been Captain Adjutant.

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

There has been some criticism of the extent of the surplus for the first eight months of this fiscal year. In considering this criticism there are a few important points to be borne in mind.

A finance minister in presenting a budget must look into the future and anticipate changing conditions and make provision for needed expenditures and revenue.

Although Mr. Abbott is finance minister, in a Liberal government, he has a record of being conservative in his estimates. Last spring Mr. Abbott budgeted for a surplus of some $20 million and instituted certain tax charges. I think we safely may assume that Mr. Abbott, like many other business leaders, anticipated a lessening in the inflation spiral which in turn would be reflected in decreased taxation revenue.

However, contrary to expectations, the inflationary trend has continued and buoyant business all along the line has meant buoyant tax revenue.

The opposition in the House and in the press has freely criticized the mounting surplus reported from month to month.

Mr. Abbott points out that as at November 1, national revenue has exceeded expenditure by only 12 percent which is a smaller margin than that experienced by governments in Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and the United States.

It should further be kept in mind that heavy government expenditures occur from January to March when the fiscal year ends and it is essential to have adequate reserves to meet these outlays. Also the existence of a surplus saves the country the expense of borrowing from the banks.

Defence
Canada's defence program is of very extensive proportions and includes many features which of necessity are not trumpeted from the house.

It was interesting news to most Canadians when the government recently announced that in spite of innumerable difficulties Canada is pushing ahead with the erection of a string of air stations across our 4,000 mile northern frontier as a guard against possible enemy attack.

Some of these stations, complete with the most modern radar equipment, are located close to the North Pole, more than 3,000 miles north of the Canada-United States border.

No Election Next Year
From time to time articles have appeared in the press hinting at the possibility of a federal election next year. Here on Parliament Hill there is no evidence to substantiate the report. The last election was held in June 1949 and the life of this parliament extends until 1954.

There have been no developments thus far which would in any way justify the holding of an election at this time and I can assure you there is no evidence that the government now has any such intentions.

There have been rumors too of the pending retirement of Prime Minister St. Laurent. I think I can safely say such rumors are news to the prime minister. He

Some light music
Maestro!

The task of arm-waving orchestra conductors has been made lighter since someone dreamed up the idea of making batons of aluminum. This gave us the notion that aluminum bull-fiddles would be a lot lighter to lug around. But, sure enough, someone had thought of that, too! Aluminum certainly lightens the load for lots of people these days—and in lots of ways.

To make more of this metal available Alcan is embarked on a further long-range expansion programme which will run to a quarter of a billion dollars. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Word has been received by Mr. George Hatley that his brother-in-law, Mr. Andrew Crawford, an official of the stock farm at the O.A.C., Quelp, was seriously injured when he fell backward from a high wagon. The results are injuries to his

This bungalow provides a very comfortable home for a small family. It has an interesting exterior appearance and a well designed floor plan which makes excellent use of all available space—an item of interest many prospective house builders.

The large living room provides adequate space for family activities. As shown in the sketch of the floor plan there is room for a breakfast table in the kitchen while careful arrangement of living room furniture would allow space for dining on special occasions.

The window arrangement has been planned to give cross ventilation in the master bedroom, the living room and the kitchen. The window over the kitchen sink provides bright natural light for the counter area.

There is direct access to the basement from the side grade entrance. This arrangement simplifies carrying out ashes or bringing in supplies since it overcomes traffic through the kitchen or other parts of the house.

The house is 30 feet by 24 feet, and for estimating purposes, the area is 720 square feet and cubic contents 16,228 cubic feet.

Working drawings for this plan, known as Design No. 50-18, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

neck and spine which make his condition serious. Mr. and Mrs. Hatley, George, Joyce, and Carol motored to Guelph to spend Christmas Day with the Crawfords.

After Christmas Day in Toronto, Mr. D. C. Wotherspoon, accompanied by a professor of Trinity college, motored to New York city, to attend the Society of Biblical Literature.

Services Have Inspired Worship

Neighborhood churches were devoted to special Christmas worship on Sunday, Dec. 23. King United church had a lighted Christmas tree, the finest grown in the reforestation area on the farm of Alfred McBride. Other accents were pine boughs, red ribbons and silver bells. The choir gave two anthems, with the obligato part taken by Misses Gerry McDonald and Janet Langdon. A Christmas message was delivered by Rev. M. R. Jenkinson. Responsible for the festive decorative effects were Mrs. A. G. Green, Mrs. H. G. Ratcliffe, Mrs. J. L. Scott and Mrs. G. T. Thompson.

All Saints Anglican church was decorated with a pine tree and evergreen boughs throughout, with each pew marked by greens. An evergreen cross hung from the chancel, and standards of yellow and bronze mums with greenery adorned the walls. On the altar were white mums. The choir gave special music and the rector's message in the morning was inspiring, while Mr. Gordon Tetley, lay reader, delivered the evening sermon. Holy communion was celebrated at the morning service.

Seasonal gatherings in Lasky United and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches gave Sunday school children an opportunity to take part in program entertainment and enjoy presents from Christmas trees. At Strange church an excellent program was produced, composed of numbers from both St. Andrew's and Eversley. Twenty-eight Eversley children were given gifts donated by the W.A., while over 30 children at St. Andrew's received treats. Unfortunately, the weather did not permit the Ninth Line congregation to attend. Mr. D. C. Wotherspoon, the minister, and his family, were laden with gifts from his congregations.

On Friday evening, All Saints' Anglican Sunday school will participate in a Christmas program when all the children and older members will take part. A playlet entitled "Radio Station Y-U-I-E" will be presented.

Post Office Taxed

By Volume of Mail

Mrs. Wells McDonald, post mistress, and a staff of four assistants handled the heaviest volume of Christmas mail in several years. Despite early mailing of cards and parcels, on one day alone there were nearly 30 mail bags in King post office. Mr. Frank Gambrell, chief courier, was given assistance by Eaton's truck to transport bags from King railway station to the office. Mrs. McDonald worked nights on end to try and get things "cleared away", if possible. Sunday nights were no exception with her, as the volume kept pouring in.

Traffic Tie-up

Congested traffic occurred in King village on Saturday afternoon, when a 2,700 gallon Imperial oil truck failed to navigate a successful turn at the four corners. Motor traffic was halted for an hour and a half. Tow trucks from King City Motors and Drinkwater Motors hauled the huge vehicle stuck at the west railroad track.

Woe Bruce Was Plain Lucky

Because a privately owned roadway in the Dew subdivision, and owned by Fred Dew, is unfit for motor travel, Mrs. Chas. Gibson, an expectant mother and her husband walked 280 feet in zero temperature, in snow almost to their knees, early Sunday morning, Dec. 16, to their car parked on Williams street. Arriving at York County hospital, tal, Newmarket, at 7.10 a.m., their 8-pound son, Bruce, was born at 7.45 that morning.

The Drinkwater tow truck brought the mother and the newborn child home the following Friday afternoon, from King sideroad up Williams and along Dew east, over pitch holes that "rocked the truck", according to Mr. Gibson.

Appearing before King township council on Saturday, Dec. 15, to plead for improvements on both of these roads, Mr. Gibson was told Dew Street is the sole responsibility of Mr. Dew. He was also informed by council that arrangements had been made, in co-operation with King

"With living costs so high one has to be careful of expenses even when taking a trip. That's why the low bus fares appeal to me—I have a little extra to spend on entertainment or for some of my shopping while I'm away. And traveling by bus these days is really enjoyable."

village trustees, to repair Williams St. The contract had been let. Mr. Gibson says the contract was not fulfilled in time to aid him in the emergency.

"We think we have built our home on a desirable lot, back from the highway and safe for our other small children. All we ask is co-operation on behalf of authorities in charge of roads," Mr. Gibson stated.

His neighbor is reported to have stated that during the past month he has paid out $20 for tow trucks to haul him along Williams St. These home owners commuted to work daily. The bad condition of Williams St. followed installation of water mains in the fall. Mr. Gibson pointed out. Gravel fill was needed to give improvement. A township snow plow was at work on these streets last Sunday night.

Sacred Heart School

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 18, the pupils of Sacred Heart school, King, staged their annual Christmas concert before a large and appreciative audience.

Frank Adamson, a recent graduate of Sacred Heart high school, was the chairman for the evening's performance. The program consisted of two choruses by pupils of grades seven and eight; recitations by Geraldine Shaw, Diane Bawn and John Snider; a square dance and a playlet, "In Santa Claus Land," staged by grades one, two and three. Twelve girls from grades four, five and six did a beautiful "star" drill.

Rita McCrohan, who won first place in Mr. Hayden's Inspectorate in the recent York County oratory contest, gave her prize-winning speech, entitled "The Story of a Queen" (the monarch butterfly).

Two comedies, "The New Housekeeper" and "Scene in a Photographer's Studio" were presented by Ken Best, Joe Deane, Evelyn Roman, Dorothy Adamson, Michael Murray, Mi-chaelene MacLean, Margaret O'Reilly, Joan Hughes, Bridget McVeigh, Dorothy O'Reilly, Mary Lawlor and Rita Crohan.

During the interludes, Barbara Lawlor, a graduate of Sacred Heart high school, and Frances Greenwood, of Grade 10, entertained the audience with several piano numbers.

The highlight of the program was a beautiful nativity drama, all principal roles being presented by students of grades nine and ten. The cast was as follows: Bobby Crook, Danny MacDonald, Keith McCormick, Lawrence Kehoe, John McCrohan, Patricia Deane, Michael Lawlor, Joseph Crook, John Sheehan, Shirley Cuyelles.

Bernadette Greenwood, Dorothy Adamson, Geraldine O'Brien, Patricia O'Brien, Frances Greenwood, Rosalie Stewart, Dolores Turrin, Betty Crook, Janet Best, Ann Hermer, Thelma Crook and Brian O'Reilly.

Bob McCrohan, a graduate of Sacred Heart high school, acted as usher, and Mr. J. Ball was at the door.

Sacred Heart school is under the direction of the Sisters of Providence of Kingston.

A PRAYER for The To-morrows

As the curtain begins to draw across the old year, we pray that the spirit of Christmas be kept in the hearts of men not only one day... but every day. For with Christmas in our hearts nothing in life could ever quench the joy or dim the light of our peace.

Thank You!

With these two words we wish to express our appreciation to all of you. You have made 1951 another pleasant year for us in Newmarket for which we are truly grateful. We look forward to serving you in '52, and wish you the very best of good wishes for the New Year.

Rotary Club Meets

Under the presidency of C. W. Stollery, the Aurora Rotary club held a Christmas meeting on Monday, Dec. 24, when a feature of the festive proceedings was the hearty singing of Christmas carols.

Preceding these vocal renditions was a discussion in which many of the members present took an active part. A novel distribution of Christmas presents was also a feature of the festive occasion.

The suggested Eldercraft Society is receiving a hearty response and further information on this important project is expected shortly to be available.

One of the most recent initiatives to the Aurora Rotary club is Mr. Sam King of Mark Ave., Aurora.

FRIDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH OF DECEMBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Santa Claus Comes To Town "Wilkie" Leaving Hospital Visit From Old Army Boy

Timeless Old Santa Claus came to Aurora on Saturday, Dec. 15, on a preliminary visit. As the children know, he will be here again in the early hours of Tuesday, Dec. 25. This visit of Saturday afternoon last was made, no doubt, in order to get a complete list of all the Aurora children who have qualified for a good Christmas stocking. The likelihood is that none of them will be passed over.

Around 1.45 on Saturday afternoon we heard the music of an approaching band, and, looking from our office window, we saw considerable crowds lined up on both sides of Yonge. When we arrived at the office soon after 1 o'clock there were already many of the younger generation in evidence on the streets. This was the day; this was it.

The music of the bugle band became more immediate, and soon the parade itself came into view. We were too interested in the scenes that met our eye to make more than a few notes; and even these are a little jumbled, which is excusable in view of the passing by of so many attractive floats and other features, including the longest elephant we have ever seen.

Sponsors Deserve Praise
There was the Citizens' band, huddled together in a B. E. Davis truck. They made music but, by heavens! we'll warrant it was a cold job. One of the musicians, on his way to the mustering point, dropped in at Jack Hudson's confectionery store, and the keys of his instrument were frozen. How he ever got them into action greatly puzzles us. Mr. Hudson gave him a recipe to cure his frozen instrument; but whether that "Old Sweat" of World War I was serious, or just fooling, we cannot say.

Anyway, the members of the Citizens' band were huddled tight as sardines in a tin. But they made music on what was doubtless the coldest day we have had this year. The Polar Bear Palace, a most appropriate float for such a day, was a happy thought on the part of Case's Ice and Cartage. It was an extremely attractive presentation.

The Long John Silver float, sponsored by Mr. Hawkins, was another outstanding feature, as were Stout's Motors Old Mother Goose and the "happy time kids" float of Aurora Greenhouses.

Altogether, the Aurora Santa Claus parade was a very successful production, reflecting the greatest credit on all who had played their many and varied parts in giving happiness to the children and enjoyment to their elders. The sponsors of the parade deserve praise and thanks for the putting on of such a fine show.

"Wilkie's" Fine Comeback
On Saturday morning and afternoon last we had a number of visitors to our office, among them Mr. Ralph Tucker, lately become, to our great personal satisfaction, a member of the town council of 1952. We worked very hard for Mr. Tucker in the election of last year, and predicted he would make the grade this year. He did make the grade by a substantial majority over his nearest opponent.

Look for the Cars

With the Yellow Tops

However, Mr. Tucker did not call to talk on council matters. He had something else on his mind which we were very glad to hear about. He is, among other welfare work in which he has interested himself, chairman of the William (Wilkie) Wilkinson Fund, which now amounts to the sizeable sum of $2,500. This money is in the security of the Wilkie Fund trustees, and Mr. Tucker was very anxious that a generous public should know just what amount has been contributed so far. There is still need for additional donations from those who can afford to give to such a fine cause.

Mr. Tucker informed us that he had had a telephone call from the Rehabilitation officer at Lyndhurst paraplegic hospital stating that Wilkie will be discharged early in the new year, and that arrangements are being made for him to live at a private home in Leaside while he attends Shaw's college for a secretarial course.

The committee of which Mr. Tucker is chairman will be asked to ratify the purchase of an automobile equipped with hand controls, to enable Wilkie to take the course, which will last for approximately one year. If the committee ratifies the purchase of the car, our readers may look forward to pictures of the presentation being shown in Aurora News Pages.

The Wilkie Fund committee has worked very hard to give this stricken boy every opportunity of making a come-back, and leading as far as possible a normal life that will be permanently handicapped by paralysis. Tribute is due to the committee for their undaunted efforts in a fine human cause. As we have mentioned, more money is still needed and those who would like to make a contribution should do so to Ralph G. Tucker, Box 694, Aurora, or to the treasurer of the Wilkie Fund, Mr. "Brie" Heaton, Imperial Bank, Aurora.

Old Army Boy
Another of our visitors to our Doan hall office last Saturday afternoon was Alderman Clifford Harman of the city council of Oshawa. We have not seen him for more than a year. He won another outstanding victory at the polls in the Oshawa municipal elections on Monday, Dec. 10, when he out-distanced all competitors with a score of 5,094 votes. His nearest rival was F. N. McCallum, brother of Toronto's former mayor, who came in second with a vote of 4,021. Alderman Harman was first elected to the Oshawa city council in 1928 and is the veteran member of that civic body.

Mr. Harman was here on a visit to relatives and friends in the home town. He has many relatives in Aurora, including a brother, Lindsay, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Granger. Another brother, Charlie, lives at Newmarket. In Aurora also he has an uncle, Lambert Harman, and an aunt, Mrs. E. Harman. Several cousins also reside here, including Stew Patrick, Marshall Rank, Jeweller, Yonge St., Mrs. Norman Egan and Mrs. Greta Brodie and Kenneth Harman, Holland Landing. Mrs. Charlotte Patrick, mother of Stew Patrick, is another of his aunts.

Mr. Harman has a great knowledge of municipal work, accumulated through his long service on the Oshawa city council. He left with us an agenda of the council meeting of December 17, and this we found very interesting. He is still deeply interested in what goes on in Aurora, and said some kind things about our Aurora News Pages to which he subscribes. He asked us to extend his best wishes to Dr. Rose and the new Aurora council for the year 1952.

Crowded Out
The foregoing notes were crowded out of last week's issue; but the subject-matter is still fresh enough to print this week. The same pressure on our Christmas space caused the holding over of the report of the December 17 council meeting, now appearing on page 11. For this report we are indebted to our colleague, managing editor John A. Meyer, who attended in our absence the final meeting of the 1951 council.

We wish all our readers, Mayor-elect Dr. Crawford Rose, and all members of the 1952 council, a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

EDITORIALS

NEW YEAR WISHES

Everybody is wishing for something in the new year that he or she missed out on in 1951. We know a young man who is wishing that next year will see a great improvement in his skittle alley bowling; and we know a few lawn bowlers who have put their plastic "marbles" away with the moth-balls, in the hope that when the turf is green again they'll show better form than ever before.

It is a good thing to "wish". In fact, if we look into ourselves a good deal of our conscious life is made up of wishing. Not to wish for something or other is a sign of mental decay. The man who is satisfied with himself and everything around him is not an enviable member of our human society.

This does not mean that we should not be thankful for many things we possess, among them good health, good hearing and good sight. It is only when we lose one or another of these precious possessions that we realize we were not thankful enough. All three are irreplaceable possessions, and those who have them should be profoundly thankful.

Some people darken their future by regrets over the past. Instead of looking forward they, like Lot's wife, look back. They regret this or that and the other. Such people should take to heart what Somerset Maugham once wrote: "I have learned," he said, "to regret nothing." Since one cannot recall what is past, one should look to the future.

The only use that the past can serve is a means of checking up on where we failed. With this in mind, our wish is that all our readers may have a good year in 1952. May you all have good health, success and happiness - above all, health and happiness - is the message of Aurora News Page for the new year.

HITTING THE LITTLE MAN

A very illuminating talk we had the other day with a Main street merchant made us wise on a bill that looks like being passed by the federal parliament before the present session is concluded, and is calculated to prove very detrimental to the livelihoods of the small retailers. The major purpose of the new legislation is to free retail prices from existing restrictions.

What the new legislation appears to mean is this: Retail prices at present restricted by the manufacturers will be freed and retailers will be able to fix their own prices for the customer. At first glance this would appear to provide an equal chance for all retail merchants; but a second glance reveals an altogether different picture.

In practice the new legislation enables the large department stores to fix their own prices to the consumer, and this will imperil the livelihoods of great numbers of the smaller merchants who cannot buy in such huge quantities as the mammoth department stores. While prices remain fixed to the scale set by the manufacturers, the selling prices of the department stores and the small retailers are equal.

The new legislation will free merchandise for a "cut-throat" competition in prices charged to the consumer, and it is obvious that in such an unequal trade race the "little man" must lose out. Those who go to the wall in this unequal struggle will be compelled to seek other means of finding a living. And where will a graduate in pharmacy, for example, find that living?

Price controls in specialized merchandise were a wise provision imposed by the manufacturers to check the "cut-throat" competition which will inevitably be revived by their removal.

AN ELDERCRAFT SOCIETY

A project emanating from the Aurora Rotary Club, at the instance of a committee of which Rotarian S. Gordon Hoffman is the chairman, deserves very close and cordial attention. The project concerns an Eldercraft Society and a great many people may wonder just what that means.

We understand that further information will be forthcoming from the committee itself, but in the meantime we are offering the following observations on our present understanding of the purpose of such a Society.

It is believed that there is a considerable number of elderly citizens in Aurora who might like to get to know each other, and come together at regular intervals for social intercourse and also to engage in craft work of an interesting character. An Eldercraft Society would provide the necessary opportunities for such meetings.

Many men of 65 and 70 years and over are at their mental best, though numbers of them have gone into retirement. Dispossessed of a lifetime of routine interests, they are inclined to become lonely and self-centred. In time they may even come to feel they are of little use in a world that is active all around them.

These are tragic consequences that often follow on retirement from a busy life. But there need not be such tragic consequences and the proposed Eldercraft Society is designed to divert them. It is the opinion of many medical men of eminent standing that the trouble with large numbers of elderly people is not sickness but only loneliness and a sense of frustration.

To bring such people together, to engage in interesting occupations, is the objective of Mr. Hoffman's committee, and we applaud that committee and the Aurora Rotary Club as a whole for the work they are doing in furthering such a splendid project. Such work is a real service to their community. We hope to have more information on it at an early date.

Kennedy St. Petition Asks Withdrawal Of Original Sewer Request

A petition for the withdrawal of the original Kennedy St. sewer petition was presented by Drs. C. R. Boulding and E. J. Henderson to the final meeting of the year of the Aurora town council last week.

The petition asked that in view of the excessive cost of the sewers of 42 cents, that the original petition be withdrawn. The most recent petition was signed by nine of the ten original petitioners. Councillor Victor Jones moved that it be accepted. Councillor Thelma Fielding wondered if the petition could be granted with one of the original signers missing.

She was assured that it could be done, and the town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, later enlarged on the point following a discussion on the legality of Councillor Jones' motion. He said that the motion was in order and the petition legal.

Dr. Henderson also asked that funds be made available to the school board for payment of school building costs. His request raised the question of the disposition of the school borrowing by-law and following a search of the files, some doubt was raised as to whether it had actually been passed. The matter was left to the solicitor and the town clerk to settle with provision made for a special council meeting to pass the by-law if necessary.

A letter from the Home and School Association, directed originally to the Recreation Commission and forwarded to the council, asked that more skating time be provided for Aurora children. The letter was forwarded to the arena commission.

A report was received from the solicitor of meetings he had attended with the planning board.

A letter from the provincial department of health, in reply to a request from Aurora for a water resources survey, said that such a survey was being taken of the entire province and that Aurora would be included.

Permission was granted for the sale of the old fire truck. The Gray Coach Lines were granted permission to pick up and discharge passengers on Yonge St. Mrs. Joan Diamond was appointed deputy clerk at a salary of $35.

It's a lovely December day and it is the voice of dyspepsia which observes that there are 364 days until Christmas comes again, thank heavens, but the tone of the remark will be understood by all who fed unwisely and have dragged themselves to work with their heads still echoing the clasp of Christmas crackers, the shouts of children, and their stomachs still protesting the annual overload of turkey and trimmings.

But for all of that, it was a good day, for ourselves, the best ever. And we would wish all our friends the same pleasure. It was a quiet Christmas with only the immediate family at the table. Friends dropped in late in the evening and saw the day out with quiet talk.

They, like ourselves, were disturbed by the hoarseness of the King's voice on his Christmas broadcast. Canadians are not flag-proud and are inclined to play down the "Empire connection, sir!" and the old time imperialism that the phrase sometimes echoes, but when the King speaks on Christmas Day it is difficult to disguise the warmth and affection we all feel. And to it, this Christmas, a fresh concern for a man who has become so much more than a man in our considerations.

The music was happiest this Christmas. We heard excellent recordings of choral works as well as "live" broadcasts. We didn't hear the "Twelfth Day of Christmas", the old ballad revived last year, as frequently as we would have liked but we did hear more of the carols of other lands, particularly the French carol, "Il est ne, Le Divin Enfant".

Two others heard more frequently were the Wassail Song and Holly and Ivy. These older carols have a life to them, a merriness and goodwill about them which we find particularly appealing.

We missed Lionel Barrymore in the Christmas Carol. We are not sure that perennial favorite was even broadcast this year. There was Alice in Wonderland over Lux Radio Theatre on Monday night but Alice has no appeal for us, we're afraid, not in its dramatic form anyway.

Radio is at its best in matters of universal appeal and never better than at Christmas.

The kids obligingly slept until 8 a.m. on Christmas Day before waking their parents for the unwrapping of presents, and for that we were extremely grateful. Among the presents were toboggans and late in the morning, they tumbled out into the snow.

We went with them to do the yeoman duty of hauling the toboggans back up the hills for them because the snow was too deep. It was our only exercise of the day but adequate to ready a Christmas appetite.

Stella was sure she had heard "the prancing and pawing of each tiny hoof" during the night. We had thought the sounds overhead were the chipmunks, but she may have been right.

The kids found some rabbit tracks nearby in the fresh snow and were convinced that they were the tracks of Prancer, Dancer, et al. We could only agree; after all, the evidence was piled high about the Christmas tree.

In recent years, at Christmas-time, an attempt has been made at a widespread safety campaign to discourage drinking and driving. The campaign has become increasingly effective, and when supplemented this year with threats of crack-downs on office parties, it seems to have done an excellent job in the city.

If the same accident-free holiday can be duplicated this weekend, then police and safety officials will have good reason to congratulate themselves.

It is too bad that the truth of the warnings at this time isn't recognized during the rest of the year. But then, the chances taken with cocktails and cars are taken by fools in the first place and the results in the traffic courts are less the end results of liquor than they are of the irresponsibility of the offenders. Access to liquor merely enlarges their scope for stupidity.

However, they'll always be with us and if they can be held in check, if only for a week, it is still a mighty accomplishment.

The results of the recent vote on a milk marketing agency offer substantial grounds for questioning the manner in which it is conducted. Two-thirds of the votes of all producers are required before a marketing agency can be established. Ballots are mailed to all producers. The producer marks his choice of yes or no, signs the ballot, and returns it by mail. If a ballot is not returned, it is counted as a vote against the agency.

The milk marketing agency failed to carry because only 64.8 percent of the producers voted for it. Sixty-six point six percent was required. But only 68.2 percent of the producers voted, and only 3.4 percent, less than one in 20, voted against the proposal. That small percentage, plus the percentage of voters who didn't send in their ballots and so were registered as opposing it, was just enough to defeat the proposal.

The milk producers have asked for another vote; they are certain that among those who failed to return their ballots, there are enough who favor the proposal to carry it with a whopping majority. Their request for another vote will be granted but in the meantime, new contracts have been signed and the producers have lost for another year the advantages they might have had had the proposal for the agency carried on the first vote.

With more than 19 in every 20 producers who registered their opinion favoring the milk marketing agency, a second vote is something of a farce. The principle that those who don't send in their ballot are counted as against the proposal is, we believe, unjustified. We agree that when a form of compulsory marketing is imposed every effort should be made to protect the rights of a minority, but we cannot see how registering unreturned ballots as no votes accomplishes this. The onus of registering an opinion rests as strongly upon those opposed as those in favor.

As the agency vote is taken now, the indifferent or forgetful have an opinion imposed upon them at the cost of those who have troubled to vote. We don't think this is right. The count should be taken of only those who vote.

THOSE CITY HUNTERS

We wish there were a few more outspoken outdoor folk who would speak up as tellingly as Mr. Pete McGillen who conducts a sportsmen's column in the Toronto Telegram. With their help, and more stringent laws, far happier use could be made of Ontario's hunting and fishing. As it is, because of the ignorant, ill-mannered attitude of city hunters, fine sport is lost to others.

The deer population has become so heavy that the animals have become a nuisance to farmers. The department of lands and forests declared an open season in some parts of southern Ontario, including some townships in York, in the expectation that the nuisance would be ended. But shortly after the announcement was made, it was rescinded. Township councils had protested the open season because the rural population feared more damage done by hunters than the nuisance of too much deer.

Mr. McGillen looked into this situation. He concluded that hunters are 90 percent in the wrong in their relations with farmers. "Farm land in Southern Ontario is private property and a hunter or angler has no more right to trespass than he has to tramp over your front lawn or garden. That evidently is not generally understood." This last comment is a masterpiece of understatement as the rest of his remarks bear out.

He writes of a farmer who was surprised at dinner by a bullet through his window, of another whose steer came home loaded with buckshot. Another's dog was shot; the fourth lost two tame ducks to hunters who shot them and ran for their car. Still another instance was of hunters who ignored the farmer's insistence that they get off his land, sent a bullet through his front window and holed five bee hives.

To these stories can be added the experiences of local farmers with hunters, in season or out. It seems that when the city hunter picks up his gun, he's so bound and determined that he's going to fire it that the target doesn't much matter, whether it's legitimate game or a farmer's window. A favorite target, of course, is the "No Hunting" signs which are generally riddled within days of their being posted.

"This sort of nonsense, this boorish, arrogant disregard for the rights of property owners is going to kill hunting and fishing in Southern Ontario," says Mr. McGillen. "I wonder how many city Joes would tolerate this behavior?" he asks. "You who like to get away for a few hours in the fields, or the woods, or on a stream had better make up your minds right now whether you are going to stand idly by while unprincipled hoodlums who call themselves sportsmen ruin your sport."

To which every farmer will breathe a fervent "Amen" with the postscript that more game wardens, tougher laws, as well as good manners, be considered.

"Lord Blackshag of Byne-shaven is nothin' but a bum," declared Slim Bliggins recently. "He's nothin' but a shiftless, irresponsible scrounging no-good."

Lord Blackshag of Byne-shaven is the titled name of Bliggins' watchdog. He's called Blackie.

"What's the trouble with him?" I asked.

"Trouble!" cried Slim. "He hasn't no troubles. That's the trouble. Too many friends around town too, and too much to eat. He's the hail-fellow-well-met type and such a pleasant sort of no-good character that anybody feeds him and no door is closed to him, not even up at that big estate of that rich dairy farmer, Lottie Sickenches."

Slim eyed his dog which snored, fat and apparently lazy, in front of the fire. "He's got no sense of home responsibility and when he gets bored with it around here, he goes bummin' fer a couple of weeks. As fer a watchdog, I might better put up a sign on my place advertisin' free rum here. He welcomes all the tramps and snarls at delivery boys and respected lookin' people."

"For a papered pooch, he should possess those inbred qualities the more decent dogs of nobility inherit," I said. "By the way, what do his papers show?"

"They shows what's right and proper," Slim said, unfolding an envelope from his desk drawer. "There's his papers. It says, 'Received from S. Bliggins, for one dog, name of Lord Blackshag of Byne-shaven, five bucks and a pair of used Big Joe work boots.' Signed Barney Monia. He's a hired man who lives out on the fifth line of East Thimbleberry."

"What's that prove?" I said. "It proves this here: that he's boughten and paid fer," Slim emphasized indignantly. "Yet I'd take back the five bucks even without the boots if I could make an about-trade," he added.

"I'd say those papers lack authenticity," I said. "You know, I often wonder if they were even any good," said Slim.

We both looked at Lord Blackshag of Byne-shaven. "You know," said Slim, "Maybe he's not so dumb as we think. After all, he's got a friend, a meal and a place to stay everywhere he goes. All he's gotta do is wag his tail and grin and he's in. Everybody gets to know Blackie."

"I heartily agree," I said. "He's got all the security he needs for free. Now take a French poodle or a pomeranian. Where would a poodle dog be if he had to look out for his own living?"

"Take away his master or mistress and a fine home and he'd be lost," Slim said. "He'd be too indignant to bum grub off of ordinary folks. Would lack the enterprise which this here Blackie has."

"Blackie isn't class conscious, nor has he any prejudices," I said.

"Nope sir, not Blackie," said Slim. "Blackie there is sort of international-like, one world, Wendell Wilkie."

"I see exactly what you mean," I said. "It must be nice to have no ties like that. Roam around when you like, meet all kinds of people. He's got good qualities; loyalty to a friendship, for instance. He's still your dog because he always comes back, always glad to see you."

"Like a long lost friend, he is, when he comes back from a week's bummin'," said Slim.

"He's got what it takes to enjoy life and to contribute to the happiness of others at the same time," I said.

"That's exactly what he's got," Slim confirmed.

"That's what I like about likeable, pleasant, bums," I said.

"Blackie's no bum!" Slim answered. "Why that there dog is a smart critter. I wouldn't sell him fer all the money in the world. And he's got guts to be the way he pleases. He's a humanist, only dog. Blackie sort of belongs to the world."

"He'd make a good politician," I said.

"He's even too good for that," Slim said.

The Top Six Inches

To the Editor: We greatly fear that we will incur your displeasure by announcing the absence of our effort again this week. We are hustening to assure you that this is due entirely to the fact that we are very busy recovering from what is known as turkey poisoning, and further engaged in the serious task of making New Year's Resolutions.

We hope to pacify you even further by mentioning that we put as resolution number one the writing of the column in 1952 one week ahead. We hope to have a set of New Year's resolutions which will be an improvement on last year's.

We promise furthermore to turn out the cows at least once every 4-5 days this winter, even if it is cold, or wet and windy. This is a hard resolution to make, but we are convinced that it will work. We had just a few too many cows we didn't catch in heat last winter. Also a few cows that stood very crooked by springtime. We have been practising it so far this winter and it doesn't bother the production.

We will promise to clip the cows' toes twice this coming winter and at least three times a year. We are convinced that it will give us better looking cows and better feeling cows as well. We think that with our cement and stanchion stabling, this is more important even than exercise.

The next item on the list is never to grow corn in any shape or form whatsoever. Our grass silage is practically odorless and the cows are accomplishing some real efforts on it. Since we opened the silo early in November, we bred to the bull, 18 cows and heifers. We had only two returns and we are sure one of them is in calf now. The cows look good and feel good and milk well. We so far have had one case of acetone-mia and no udder trouble. It would seem unreasonable to attribute all this to good grass silage. But it seems to us that it must have helped some.

Our next resolution concerns seeding in the spring. We must get that spring seeding in by about the 12th of May and as early as can be done. We also promise ourselves to get in as much loose hay as we can. Had we done this, the quality of our hay would have been better this year.

We want to try and send in registration and transfer papers on time and answer all correspondence from the different departments of the government right away. We hope this will not encourage them to increase the avalanche of paper already coming our way.

We should put antifreeze in tractors and sprayer in better time than last year and in general should be a better and more careful farmer.

Now you see, Mr. Editor, why we couldn't just write our column. We hope that the quality of our resolutions will assure you that this wasn't just an artful way of dodging.

Yours truly,
"Dairy Farmer"

Blasting home two goals in a last period drive, Black Hawks nosed out Rangers 2-1. Black Hawk goal-getters were Grant Morton and Bruce Fines. The latter's game-winning marker was set up by Brian Million. Paul Mainprize bagged the Rangers one goal unassisted midway through the second session.

Earl Lothian's goal, his second of the night, at the three-quarter mark of the third, broke a 4-4 stalemate and enabled Canadiens to squeeze by Red Wings 5-4. REPORT FROM LAST WEEK

The Optimist sponsored N.H.L. shot away with a trio of actionful games Friday. Out of it came Canadiens with a 3-2 win over Leafs; Black Hawks over Bruins 5-2; Rangers and Redwings 3-3.

Cowal and Delwyn Creed punched home countering Leaf blasts as the Leafs took the offensive in the third round, but couldn't quite manage the equalizer.

Black Hawks set a sizzling pace in the last period to rap in five goals to salt their win away. Grant Morton had a merry scoring time, connecting for three; Bruce Fines belted home first. After a scoreless first period, Bruins assumed a 2-0 lead in the middle session on markers by Jack Cain and Raymond Gurr, only to run out of sizzle.

King Winter's blasts hold no terrors for the enthusiastic Miami Green Bowlers. They've been at their favorite pastime for the past six weeks. Last Friday the Miami greensmen completed the first trebles tournament. Vaughan Goring, veteran bowler, skipped his team of Steve Rose, vice-skip, and lead Chester Best to a resounding win over Horace Cumber's rink. The teams are seen here checking a close end. L. to r. DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Hulse Looks Back Over '51

A new year at hand and a quick look-see at the past might not be amiss, just so we can train our sights differently for 1952 in some cases, and pay a few tributes to others who deserve them.

King Hockey saw Markham Millionaires go to the Senior B finals to lose out to Brantford in a one-sided series. It marked the end too of senior B or intermediate hockey, or any organized hockey at Markham, one of the district's best hockey towns in over 20 years.

Normie Standen was picked as the leading spirit of the Money-men and he ranked, in our opinion, as about the standout performer in North York. The players scattered to the four winds this winter. Stouffville Clippers, who valiantly battled the Markies, lost a bucketful in battling it out, but hope to recoup this winter and they have a real chance for senior B honors. Nick Bangay, Bud Watson, Moe Petch, Jackie Watson and Jack Rumney were welcome additions to the Stouffville team.

Collingwood Shipbuilders annexed the intermediate "A" championship and en route to the title, received about their hardest tests from Newmarket Spittfires. The two teams battled it out again this winter but the northerners are knee-deep in good reserves, while the battling Spits can ill-afford to lose any players.

Collingwood Juniors brought a second title to town with a repeat performance in the junior "C" series with practically the same club as that which ousted Aurora the year previous. They look certain winners in '52 thereby killing effectively the junior "C" series across the province.

Aurora Indians who were scheduled for intermediate "B", became senior "B" partly through ambition and partly through territorial boundaries, and were deep in red ink and gloom as the season ended to crush intermediate hockey in Aurora for years to come. The performance of Harry Frogley in the nets will long be remembered, however. Herbie Cain made his debut as a coach, but wasn't successful. Jim Wall, as sponsor, suffered the same fate, especially in the pocketbook as Aurora Bears flopped badly in junior "B".

Bob Lawrie took a Unionville club that wasn't favored to the group finals. He's back this year again. Aurora allowed Unionville to steal Moe Petch and Bob Watson away, and in time could have had a terrific team. Aurora Cubs made a fine start in junior "D", broke even financially. Won a protest against Orono and then, when it looked like clear sailing, dropped the series. This year with the courageous Newmarket Rockets on the sidelines, the club adopted the Bears' name and sweaters, and with a Bradford - Aurora - Newmarket combo under Charlie Rowntree, looked to be going places in "D".

The O.H.A. are trying to reclassify the team and force them to "C" along with Elmira. The club as against Collingwood, Simcoe, etc., are definitely not of "C" calibre, and an otherwise even-strengthen group can be upset. If they go "C", Rex Bailey, Oakville; Bill Smith, Lindsay; Ed Williams, Unionville; all of whom have no releases from Aurora, should be reclaimed.

Red Mitchell, who left Aurora for Lindsay, had just a fair season last year, but linked with Eddie Shore, has his club out in front in the strong Eastern Ontario circuit. Schomberg, flushed with mercantile imports, won the financially solvent King-Vaughan league. Woodbridge arena opened and had a good year, despite a losing hockey club. This year with a nucleus of the Naval Vets team as the backbone they are doing not too badly in a strong league.

St. Mike's Buzzers are also at home at Woodbridge now. Nobleton juniors went to the junior "D" finals with many players who had started with Aurora Cubs. They are back with a strong team this winter and in fact can be seen at Aurora on Friday night (tonight).

Bolton Juveniles won the juvenile "D" championship and moved to junior "D" this winter. They are a bit outclassed but not outgamed. Jack Andrews, currently with the Spits, was a member of the Toledo club who won U.S.H.A. senior honors. Murray Brandon and Tom Brodie jumped Aurora Indians in mid-season with no compensation for Eagle River, Wisconsin. Brandon stayed on and Tommy is now playing in the Aurora Town league.

Gordy Lewis of Stouffville, and Bill Mabett of Spits joined Mac Clement as members of the Ayr Club of the Scottish league. The trio are all doing fine overseas.

Bill Mundell, besides being assistant recreation director and arena manager, did a great job for kid's hockey in Aurora. His midweek team didn't do too badly in the play-offs. Girls hockey at Aurora and Keswick came to life and this winter is drawing increasing crowds. Moe Walsh, after a season in senior hockey out west, moved up to the N.H.L. this winter. Despite a late season injured shoulder, Joint McComb had a good year at St. Louis. Change in coach and other interests shifted McComb to Indianapolis. Business and friendships made the move unpopular with the McComb family. Presently at home, he may forsake pro hockey. Orillia, Spittfires, etc., are hot on his trail but he is not likely to be declared amateur this season.

Scotty Mair found himself as an Allan Cup winner, and this season hopped over to Kitchener as Marlboros retired from senior. Maple Leafs came through with a surprise Stanley Cup win.

Baseball: Top performances by Sutton Green Sox, tri-County, Stouffville Beavers, Tri-County and O.B.A. finalists, and Red Hollinsworth's Newmarket Optimist bantams, finalists against Petrolia. George Holbert, for Sutton, the evergreen Earl Cook for Stouffville, and young John Maguire were outstanding over the year. Tim Dickson, now located in Aylmer as arena manager, tried desperately to get Aurora organized but the O.B.A. made it next to impossible. We wonder when the baseball moguls are going to smarten up and get the season over, especially for teen-agers, in decent time.

Loring Deslille was a hit with Kingsway Lumbermen, Danforth winners, while another ex-Aurora player Gerry Atcheson was with Mahers who won the T.B.A. senior. Hoems Miller made good in senior company with Oshawa to prove this district can produce ball players with the best. To prove age doesn't matter, Lou Lehman, a star of yesteryear with Stouffville, was a member of the Delhi team that took Stouffville.

Softball: Fred Morris' famous North Yonge loop folded dismally to leave inter-town ball at a low ebb in the area. King-Schomberg-Woodbridge-Kettleby all had big years of rural softball and great high jinks in their competition. Pottageville and Nobleton too. Newmarket Town League enjoyed a banner year with orchids to both winners and losers, especially the latter. Mighty strange names too in competition: let's see now, Mickey Smith, Harvey Gibney, Joint McComb, Chuck VanZant, Bill VanZant, Lefty Glover, Normie Legge, Herbie Cain. Seems as tho' it was only yesterday when they started. Ron Kester's Zephyr team, after a sketchy start, gave a repeat performance in the Lake Simcoe loop, and the circuit was in doubt all the way.

Elgin Mills won two crowns. Teddy Bennett pitched the men to the Vaughan Township championship while the girls team repeated in district ladies softball. Newmarket Ladies and coach VanZant had their usual tough luck in the playoffs, losing both league and P.W.S.U. rounds, with one of canaltown's better clubs. The Lake Simcoe junior league just makes it a question of time however, until the silver mugs will rest on the Courtney mantle-piece.

Doug Smith, former Aurora boy, elected president of the O.S.A. and did a fine job. Time for a revival of softball of the senior men's series, although the town league variety seems to suit pretty well. Buttonville repeated in the Markham Township league, with Markham, led by Peggy O'Neill on the mound, making a rousing stretch drive. Buttonville ousted in the O.S.A. series early.

Miscellany: Aurora high wins Eckhardt trophy twice in the same year, as Frank Gregoire's proteges really went to town. The fall meet saw the purple and gold N.H.S. team out. Fred Speers' boys, however, did all right in football and basketball as the records show. St. Andrews' reached the prep school finals and were beaten by a great Trinity College squad. The Andreams, however had annexed the basketball title.

Bradford Curling Club, organized by that great sportsman Art Kneeshaw is due to be a big success. Alliston and Bradford provided plenty of lacrosse thrills but no championships as the gutted stick artists switched from one series to another as they were eliminated. Highlands golf enjoyed the best season in history and readied it's new 18 hole course for action in '52.

John Stuart curtailed much of his racing activity and moved from Markham to Vaughan Township. No Christmas shindig either. Chart Holmes just missed seeing his Tiger-Cats win the Big Four. "Next year," sez Vice-President Holmes. Newmarket Archery club gained province-wide recognition and is headed towards the top flight brackets. Stan Smith does a smart job at Newmarket arena and wrestling goes over the top in it's first try, with the best named grapplers in attendance.

Red Garner and his local troupe of thespians including Norm Alexander, Cleve Burton, Hot-Rod Parisi, played to good crowds at Richmond Hill. Bingo proved again the best money-maker for all the service clubs, and Legion branches in the area. Draw tickets getting harder to sell. New ideas needed in this field. Newmarket and Claremont get flood-lights in late season. Off to a flying start next season, men.

Hashman Haskett can take a bow for his weekly awards, work for floodlights and general enthusiasm including the pix. Space is curtailing the flying finger, so before we forget, Happy New Year. May you find that "castle in Spain" and "the gold mine in the sky" in '52 as well as happiness.

SPITS MEET BEARS

To keep the senior hockey pot stewing betwixt Christmas and New Year's and the Spittfires on the bit, Coach Al. Shewchuk has lined up a home and home exhibition series with Bracebridge Bears. The Spits were scheduled to take on the Bears here last night and journey to the Muskoka metropolis on Saturday night. Next league action for the Spits will be against Eddie Bush's Collingwood Shipbuilders Jan. 3.

AURORA COUNCIL

The by-law to permit the sale of the Mechanics' hall to the Aurora Lions club was passed.

The town clerk was granted permission to purchase Christmas fowl for the town employees as has been the custom of other years.

A resolution was passed in which Christmas greetings were extended by mayor and council to the citizens of Aurora.

Mayor Bell thanked members of the council for their co-operation during the past year. He said he had thoroughly enjoyed the year working with them. He wished them the season's best. Councillor Corbett replied that it had been a great pleasure to serve under Mayor Bell.

Councillor Pringle thanked those he had worked with and offered his services to assist new members coming on council. Councillor Fielding said she had enjoyed working on council and thanked all for their courtesy. Councillor Gundy said that he hoped he had been able to give as much to council as he had received in experience and hoped that, if possible, he would stand again.

Councillor Davies said that as one of the old timers, he had learned a lot from council. He said that he had sat in many councils but one thing was common to all: no matter who had sat in council, they had all worked for the good of the town.

Following adjournment, Councillor Pringle invited members of the council and press to his home for coffee.

Spits Earn Win And Tie To Keep String Intact

Newmarket Spits didn't win in Orillia Saturday night but they did the next best thing; they came home with a fair share of the points. They tied the Terriers in their new plush arena gardens 2 all.

The Spits' share of the points enabled them to consolidate their hold on third place in the group standing and keep alive their unbeaten streak that has now reached three games.

Ken. Broughton was the keyman in the Spits' tying effort. He hit for a goal at 14.52 of the third period on a pass by Don. "Spider" Gibson. Up to this point, Orillia nursed a 2-1 edge on the strength of Murray Richardson's two goals, one after 40 seconds of the middle frame, and a second at 2.15 of the third.

Bill Patrick gave the Spits their start-off goal early in the first period, sinking a goal-mouth scramble shot.

Three stars, as selected by C. F.O.R. Hot-stover Mickey Smith, were Gander Ross in the Orillia cage, our own Joe Tunney for a fine blocking display, and Ken. Broughton for his game-tying shot. It was a rugged exciting bout. The sin bin was seldom free of visitors during the middle round exchanges as Referee Red Farrell working alone endeavored to cool out the gladiators.

SPITS SPILL ORILLIA

Newmarket Spits, currently on a victory spree after a slow start, shook themselves into third place in the Big Five Senior standing with a 7-4 win over Orillia Terriers here Thursday.

The win marked the Spits' third straight triumph. Centreman Bill Johnston was the Spits' big gun in this one. Bill put away three goals and tacked on two assists for good measure.

The Spits opened with a rush. Don. Gibson poked Laurie Thoms' pass into the Orillia cage in the first 22 seconds. Then the Shewchuk band faltered and Orillia on the strength of goals by Clary Payne, Ab. Bowen and Don. Bowen edged into a 3-1 edge early in the middle round.

Then Bill Johnston came up with a pair of goals in a matter of 44 seconds to tie. "Hot Shot" had help from Don. Smith and Ken. Thoms on his first, and from Don. Smith on his tying goal. Ken. Thoms sank a three-way relay that went from Bill Johnston to Don Smith to Thoms to put the Spits up 4-3 before the scrapers came out.

The third period was just 15 seconds old when visitors' centreman Clary Payne beat Joe Tunney. Bill Johnston took a hand again to bust the tie with Al. Shewchuk and Don. Smith assisting. The Spits went on from there to salt it away. A three-way passing effort that took in Don Smith, Bill Johnston and Bill McGhee clicked and Jack Andrews lifted the game out of the doubtful category with his goal at 17.45.

The Spits, once in stride, skated with more authority than in any previous contest. Their passing was clicking and they were on the beam in front of the Orillia cage. Shots on goal were Spits 33, Orillia 26. Joe Tunney came up with steady blocking. The defense foursome broke many Orillia rushes and the third line of Bill Patrick, Swiftly Todd and Myles McInnis, although absent from the scoring, turned in a fine effort individually and as a unit.

King Keeps Streak Alive

Nobleton and Kleinburg claimed victories in last week's King-Vaughan action. Bruce Hall's King Maroons kept alive their unbeaten record by holding the fast moving Bolton Wanderers to a 4-1 tie.

Pouring in for seven goals in a sizzling first period assault, five in a little under five minutes, the loop leading Nobleton contingent smothered Schomberg 8-2. Elgin Hastings' Bangers were without three regulars and efficient league secretary Bill Breedon donned the big pads in the Schomberg cage.

Oddly enough, Schomberg was away to a fast start, collecting the first two goals as Henry Hollingshead and Doug. Brown rifled in pay-dirt hitters, but from there on, it was a Nobleton show. The teams battled scorelessly in the middle frame and Alex. Cain chucked in Nobleton's eighth goal in the finale.

Alex. Cain paced the winners' attack with three. Len. Murray and Jack Woods for two, Bruce Wallace a single.

Kettleby, scoring at a goal a period pace, couldn't match a three-goal uprising by Kleinburg in the final period and dropped a heart-break 4-3 decision. The loss, Kettleby's fifth, spilled them further in the league's basement. Ted Rogers, Jack Cober and coach Bill Attridge collected the Kettleby scoring credits. Len. Ellis spark-plugged Kleinburg with two goals, Murray Hilliard and Bert Loschuk connected for singles.

Trailing 4-2 going into the final round, King Maroons staged a two-goal uprising to gain a 4-1 tie with Bolton Wanderers. John Richards, Ross Follitt, Murray Chapman and Jim Patton bagged the King goals. Harvey Wallace was Bolton's big gun with two, Irwin Ewart and Jim Downey racked up the other Bolton markers.

(HELD FROM LAST WEEK)

King-Vaughan hockeyists settled down to playing it by the book last week, three games—12 penalties. Fine brand of hockey on display didn't hurt the attendance or the excitement. The winners were Kleinburg, Nobleton and King.

Despite a sparkling three-goal

Harold "Sonny" Stephenson has been setting a sizzling hot pace in the Aurora Town League scoring race. At present Stevie has the inside track on the very fine trophy being offered by the Aurora Recreation Commission for the league's leading scorer. Stevie has whacked in nine goals and gained six assists and has wedged out a six-point spread over his nearest rival. His scoring magic on the wing-line has had much to do with the Ditch Diggers' high standing in Aurora Town Circuit race.

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

HAPPY NEW YEAR: There's no getting around the fact that we can't do much more in 1951. It's customary at this time to pause and reflect on the accomplishments of past year if any.

We're happy to say it's been a good year for the Hub sports tribes. The town league softballers enjoyed a very active season—best in years, and our Optimist-sponsored pee-wee baseballers made history by reaching all-Ontario O.B.A. finals.

But the biggest job of work done was the installation of floodlights and the rejuvenation of that well-nigh forgotten hunk of sod, the fair grounds. That indeed was a grand and glorious accomplishment put over by the Hubtown sportsmen headed by Chairman Charlie VanZant, Topper, Ken. Flett, yours truly, and a host of willing volunteers.

Won't dwell further on 1951 but will get on to consider our target for 1952. It's already on the move. The installation of a swimming pool. Baby steps have been taken by the Lions club, headed by chief sports booster Jim Walker. The Lions have gathered considerable data on costs and installation and will likely have something to say about it in the spring.

It's a more costly undertaking than either artificial ice or floodlights but it will be accomplished, your scribe is sure. But to do it, every citizen and every organization in the hub will have to pitch in.

We haven't at present any inkling of the Lions club plans but this corner has always felt the right way to make a go of a major project of this size is to call an open meeting of all citizens, discuss the situation from every angle, then set up the inner working committee and get on with the job. Possibly it's a job that won't be completed in one year, but after waiting 20, one year here or there won't matter. But accomplished it must be.

Being a diehard baseball enthusiast, we would like to see the formation of an intermediate baseball nine in 1952. There's little or no excuse now for hesitating with the fair ground diamond repaired and suitable for baseball.

The Tri-County League have indicated Newmarket would be a welcome addition to the circuit. Opposition would come from Stouffville and Sutton and both are natural drawing cards. Certainly the talent is available for a strong entry. If the district players were rounded up, it would be safe to say Newmarket could win the league. And the right way to start—naturally would be to get going early in March with the election of a strong executive.

Item three: This hits us forcefully as we journey around amongst the sporting clans, and that is the need for a full time Recreation Director in Newmarket. It's amazing the number of

Diggers Spill Mounties

Mickey Sutton's re-inforced Ditch Diggers in the Aurora town league spilled Murray Edgar's Mount Albert Mounties of the Newmarket town league 5-3 in an inter-town exhibition contest in the Aurora Arena Wednesday. Mount Albert were without the services of most of their regulars and filled in with Kettleby players.

Ditch Diggers' Conch Mickey Sutton was the big gun for the winners, sniping for three goals. Dave Richardson and Bill Kingdon racked up the other Diggers' markers. Elmo Paisley was number one boy with the Mounties, firing two goals, and Ted Rogers collected a goal and an assist. The Ditch Diggers held a 4-0 lead at one stage but the Mounties came up with a rush to make it 4-3 before fading.

HASHMAN AWARD

For Three Good Goals

Opportunity was a knocking at Bill Johnston's door last Thursday. Bill, one of the Spits' most prolific scorers, let opportunity come right in and made the most of his pre-Christmas visits to wrap up a three-goal, two-assist mark.

A fine evening's work in itself but more to the point, Bill's goals came at the most opportune time. Spits trailed 3-1 when in a space of 44 seconds "Hot Shot" scored twice to tie it. Then, with the Spits and Orillia knotted four all, Bill sent the Spits ahead and on their way to their third straight win with his third shot.

So that's why we're naming Bill Johnston for the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass this week.

Bears Take 4th Home Win

Aurora Bears, piping hot, made it look easy in Aurora Friday as they zipped to a convincing 13-5 win over Bolton Wanderers in a Big Six junior tilt. This was the Bears' fourth straight home triumph. The loss dropped the invaders further into the depths of the league basement. They reported in with only ten men.

The Rowntree kids pushed home three first period goals and then Jack-potted their count with five in both the second and third periods. Only once did Bolton produce any threatening gestures. This was in the first two minutes of the third period. They ran in three goals in a matter of two minutes and 20 seconds but the effort was wasted as Bears again went on the attack to wrap it up with five goals.

The Bears had a busy evening fattening scoring averages. In all, they collected 28 points. Chief contractors in the win were Elmo Phillips, Pepper Martin, Bob Forhan and Walt Fines with a pair of goals each. Stev Wilson, Grant Edwards, Bob Cook, Andy Closs and Joe Gasko sniped for single tallies.

The balance of the Rowntree roster put marks in the assists' tance column. Grant Winters was the only Bear to miss collecting a single point but made up for it with a steady plugging defensive show.

Joe Burke had a comparatively easy time of it. He was called on to stop 16 shots, five went by. In the middle frame Bolton only lifted three shots his way but two went in. His opposite, Bob Kearns, was on the jump all night. Except for his gallant stand, Aurora snipers could easily have counted 25 goals. Kearns stopped 39 of the 52 shot punched his way by the speeding Bears.

Aurora Pee-Wees

Sparked by Don. Glass' three-goal attack, Leafs downed Canadlens 4-1, while Chicago and Detroit fought to a 1-1 deadlock in the pre-Christmas dish in the Aurora Allen Cup pee-wee hunt.

Lughe Hammond supported Don. Glass in the Leaf triumph with a goal. Don. Zimmerman with two and Ron. Ferry and Vern Everly with an assist each aided the Leaf cause.

Bob Davis with Teeter Murrell assisting kept the shut-out axe from descending on the Canadlens. Jack Murby punched home the Chicago goal unassisted and Mike Patrick with Dave Faulkner, the pass supplier, countered for the Detroit tally in their one-all tie.

Keswick Opens With Win

Keswick rural hockeyists are on the way. They opened their Tri-County Rural Hockey League action Wednesday evening in the Keswick arena with a win. Scoring at a goal a period pace, they squeezed out a 3-2 win over Port Perry. Port Perry, along with Sutton and Haliburton have a senior rating in the Tri-County books.

Goal-snipers for Keswick were Ken. Davis, Jim Cook and Don. Smith. The Mark brothers, Ken and Don, shot in the Port tally. Although it was a slim crowd of the opener, it was a piperoo of game and they'll all be back for the next contest next Wednesday. Keswick heads for Woodville Saturday for their first road game.
